Society of Petroleum Engineers

The SPE Awards Program

recognizes significant technical and professional contributions to the worldwide oil and gas industry and to the petroleum engineering profession, and exceptional service to the society and the greater community. The program consists of both international and regional awards.

NEW! SPE International Distinguished Corporate Support Award

This award, established in 2009, is bestowed on a company that has demonstrated significant support of SPE over time in areas such as volunteerism, dissemination of technical knowledge, participation at SPE meetings and support of other SPE activities.

SPE Regional Awards

The 11 SPE regional awards recognize contributions in service, technical expertise, and corporate support at the regional level. Individual regional award winners are eligible for the comparable international award the following year. Additional information on regional awards can be found at www.spe.org/regionalawards.
