RICHARDSON, Texas, U.S.A. (21 January 2004) — SPE announces the launch of the SPE E&P Consultants Directory, a searchable database of consultants in the upstream oil and gas industry. Available at http://www.spe.org/industry/ps/consultants\_dir.php, this free online service puts users in contact with individuals or companies who can meet their specific consulting needs. Additionally, consultants can list themselves in the SPE E&P Consultants Directory to reach a targeted group of potential customers.

Industry professionals may locate consulting resources through database searches by name, technical terms or geographic region. Technical terms can be submitted in phrases or key words. Searches within the SPE E&P Consultants Directory will return a list of consultants meeting specific criteria. Detailed information is available on consultants' services, and contact data is provided to help facilitate inquiries with the consultants.

Individuals or companies providing consulting services in the upstream oil and gas industry are eligible for a directory listing. A division or subsidiary of a larger organization in the E&P industry that provides consulting services may be listed as its named division or subsidiary.
